

Biography:

Rajee Narinesingh is an American transgender actress, activist, author, singer, and reality television personality, most known for her appearances on the E! Entertainment docu-series, Botched.

Rajee says “Activism has been the core of my life! I realize now that my existence alone is a statement of activism! My whole life I have not fit into what society said was the "Norm". When you see me, you see a multiracial unique looking transgender woman of color who has worked hard to be determined to live her life loud and proud in a world where many believe that I don't belong. The average lifespan of a transgender woman is 35 so I guess I have beaten some of the odds. Sometimes I have to pinch myself because I can't believe that I actually lived to see some better days for us transgender people. I don't know when my time here will be done but what I do know is that I've tried to be a beacon of love, joy, peace, and inspiration for people. I guess we can all do our part to help make the world a better place. God knows that I have tried to do what I can in my own unique way!”
